Assignment - 1

- Build a calculator that can Add, Subtract, Multiply & Divide numbers
  - The calculator needs to have a user interface
  - You can choose any programming language

- Provide a rough estimate of how many hours you think this will take
- Log time spent on the project
  - Date & Hours worked each day
  - Categorize your time between
    - Requirements Analysis & Design
    - Development
    - Testing
- Record number of bugs/defects found during testing
- Compare your total time spent with your initial estimate

Action Items

CAL POLY POMONA